

Today in this video we're going to practice 50 Daily Life Conversation Questions And Answers with double repetition.

These are real questions that people ask you in daily life.

First of all...

We will start very simple - A1 level.

These are questions for people who are just starting to learn English.

Questions like "What is your name?" and "Where are you from?"

Then we will go to A2 level - a little bit harder.

Questions like "What did you do yesterday?" and "What are your hobbies?"

After that, B1 level - intermediate questions.

Like "Can you tell me about your family?" and "What do you like to do in your free time?"

And finally, B2 level - advanced questions.

Now, let me make you a promise.

And this is a real promise.

If you listen carefully and repeat every question and answer with me, I promise you will speak English much better.

You will speak with confidence.

But remember one important thing - don't skip any sentence in this video.

Every question is important.

Every answer is important.

Even if you think "Oh, this question is too easy for me", still practice it.

Because easy questions build your foundation.

They make you confident for harder questions.

after this video, when someone asks "How are you?", you will answer quickly and easily.

You will say "I'm doing great, thank you! How about you?" without thinking too much.

When someone asks "What do you do?", you won't be confused.

You will confidently answer "I'm a student" or "I work at a company" - just like that!

This is the power of practice.

So here's what you need to do right now.

Get a notebook and a pen if you want to write important things.

Sit in a quiet place where you can speak out loud.

Because you must repeat after me - speaking is very important!

Are you ready?

Do you have your notebook?
