

Today in this video I am going to share with you one 103 easy and powerful sentences to speak English fluently in everyday life.

Yes.. just one hundred and three sentences.

That's all you need.

But before I share these sentences with you.. let me ask you something.

Do you feel... stuck?

You have studied grammar for years.

but when you open your mouth. nothing comes out. It's frustrating, right?

You worry about making mistakes, you worry about your accent, and you worry about people judging you.

But today, all of that stops. Today, we change everything about how you learn.

I've found the secret, the real secret that native speakers use every day.

You don't need to memorize thousands of words or complex rules, no, that is a waste of time.

You only need 103 specific sentences to handle almost any conversation in your daily life.

I want to make a promise to you right now, a real promise from my heart.

If you learn these 103 sentences, if you really practice them, I guarantee you will start speaking English.

Listen to me carefully, then repeat after me two times.

This double practice will help your mouth remember the words.

Let's begin!

How is it going with you today?

How is it going with you today?

I am doing really well, thank you.

I am doing really well, thank you.

What have you been up to lately?

What have you been up to lately?

Not much, just the usual daily stuff.

Not much, just the usual daily stuff.

Note: "The usual daily stuff" means you are just doing your normal routine like work or chores.

Could you please help me with this?

Could you please help me with this?

I am already on my way there.

I am already on my way there.

Note: Use this to tell someone that you have already left your house and you are traveling to meet them.

Give me just a second, please.

Give me just a second, please.

I will be right back very soon.

I will be right back very soon.

What do you think about this?

What do you think about this?

That sounds like a great idea!

That sounds like a great idea!

I am not really sure about that.

I am not really sure about that.

Let me check and tell you.

Let me check and tell you.

It is really no big deal.

It is really no big deal.

Note: Use this phrase when someone apologizes for a small mistake to show them that you are not upset.

Please don't worry about it at all.

Please don't worry about it at all.

I am totally exhausted after work today.

I am totally exhausted after work today.

Note: "Exhausted" is a strong word that means you have absolutely no energy left to do anything.

Do you know what is for dinner?

Do you know what is for dinner?

I am absolutely starving right now!

I am absolutely starving right now!

Note: "Starving" is a common way to say you are extremely hungry and need to eat immediately.

Can I have a glass of water?

Can I have a glass of water?

Where exactly are you right now?

Where exactly are you right now?

I am just relaxing at home.

I am just relaxing at home.

I will see you later today.

I will see you later today.

Take care on your way back home.

Take care on your way back home.

I hope you have a wonderful day.

I hope you have a wonderful day.

I forgot what I was going to say.

I forgot what I was going to say.

Could you repeat that one more time?

Could you repeat that one more time?

Please speak a little slower for me.

Please speak a little slower for me.

I understand exactly what you mean.

I understand exactly what you mean.

I'm sorry, but I really don't get it.

I'm sorry, but I really don't get it.

Note: "I don't get it" is a very natural and casual way to tell someone that you are confused by what they said.

Do you know what this word means?

Do you know what this word means?

It is getting quite cold outside.

It is getting quite cold outside.

The weather is boiling hot today!

The weather is boiling hot today!

Note: "Boiling hot" is an idiom used when the temperature is very high and it feels like you are cooking.

I need some coffee to wake up.

I need some coffee to wake up.

Where is the nearest bathroom, please?

Where is the nearest bathroom, please?

It was a pleasure meeting you.

It was a pleasure meeting you.

Long time no see, how are you?

Long time no see, how are you?

Note: This is the perfect greeting to use when you meet a friend after months or years apart.

How was your weekend with everyone?

How was your weekend with everyone?

It was a very busy weekend.

It was a very busy weekend.

I just stayed at home today.

I just stayed at home today.

Why are you so late today?

Why are you so late today?

I am just taking it easy now.

I am just taking it easy now.

That is actually a very funny joke!

That is actually a very funny joke!

Are you being serious right now?

Are you being serious right now?

I'm just kidding with you.

I'm just kidding with you.

Note: "Just kidding" lets the other person know that you are only joking and they should not be offended.

Believe me, I am telling the truth.

Believe me, I am telling the truth.

I will try my best to do it.

I will try my best to do it.

I am sorry, it was my fault.

I am sorry, it was my fault.

Note: Admitting your mistakes with this sentence shows that you are an honest and responsible person.

That is no problem at all.

That is no problem at all.

Can you tell me what happened?

Can you tell me what happened?

Please tell me more about it.

Please tell me more about it.

Don't worry, I am listening to you.

Don't worry, I am listening to you.

Please slow down a little bit.

Please slow down a little bit.

Please keep going with your story.

Please keep going with your story.

Note: This shows the speaker that you are interested in what they are saying and want them to continue.

I think you are absolutely right.

I think you are absolutely right.

I'm sorry, but I have to disagree.

I'm sorry, but I have to disagree.

Maybe we can do it next time.

Maybe we can do it next time.

I am quite busy right now.

I am quite busy right now.

Let's go and do it together.

Let's go and do it together.

I am ready to leave now.

I am ready to leave now.

Are you ready to start yet?

Are you ready to start yet?

Let's go out for a walk.

Let's go out for a walk.

I am getting tired of this.

I am getting tired of this.

This is absolutely amazing news!

This is absolutely amazing news!

I am so happy for your success.

I am so happy for your success.

Good luck with your new project.

Good luck with your new project.

I know that you can do it.

I know that you can do it.

Please don't give up just yet.

Please don't give up just yet.

Note: This is a powerful way to encourage someone who is facing difficulties or feeling discouraged.

Do you know what time it is?

Do you know what time it is?

It is almost eight o'clock now.

It is almost eight o'clock now.

Oh no, I am running late!

Oh no, I am running late!

Hurry up, we are going to be late.

Hurry up, we are going to be late.

Note: Use "Hurry up" when you are in a rush and you need the other person to move much faster.

Please take your time, no rush.

Please take your time, no rush.

You really need to calm down.

You really need to calm down.

Is everything okay with you today?

Is everything okay with you today?

I am feeling a little bit sick.

I am feeling a little bit sick.

I really need a short break.

I really need a short break.

Let's go and take a walk outside.

Let's go and take a walk outside.

The weather is so nice today.

The weather is so nice today.

I really love this new song.

I really love this new song.

Please turn the volume up a bit.

Please turn the volume up a bit.

It is way too loud in here.

It is way too loud in here.

Can you hear what I'm saying?

Can you hear what I'm saying?

I can't hear you very well.

I can't hear you very well.

My phone battery has just died.

My phone battery has just died.

Do you know where my charger is?

Do you know where my charger is?

Please call me back a bit later.

Please call me back a bit later.

I will send you a text soon.

I will send you a text soon.

Let's try to meet up soon.

Let's try to meet up soon.

What is the plan for today?

What is the plan for today?

I am really looking forward to it.

I am really looking forward to it.

That is a very good idea!

That is a very good idea!

I don't mind whatever you choose.

I don't mind whatever you choose.

Note: "I don't mind" means that you are happy with any option and you have no personal objection.

It is completely up to you.

It is completely up to you.

Note: This tells the other person that they have the power to make the final decision.

I don't really care about that.

I don't really care about that.

Are you absolutely sure about this?

Are you absolutely sure about this?

I am positive that it's true.

I am positive that it's true.

Note: "I am positive" is a stronger way of saying "I am 100 percent sure" without any doubt.

Please trust me on this one.

Please trust me on this one.

I promise I will be there.

I promise I will be there.

It is definitely worth a try.

It is definitely worth a try.

Note: This means that even if success is not guaranteed, it is still a good idea to attempt it.

Let's keep in touch from now on.

Let's keep in touch from now on.

I am so proud of you.

I am so proud of you.

You look great in that outfit.

You look great in that outfit.

I am learning English every day.

I am learning English every day.

I can speak English very fluently!

I can speak English very fluently!

So, there you have it.

Those were the 103 sentences that will change your life.

Think about it for a moment.

You don't need to study for five more years to start speaking.

You have everything you need right here in this list.

These sentences cover your morning, your work, your feelings, and your social life.

The secret isn't knowing more words; it's being comfortable with the right ones.

If you practice these, you aren't just "learning" English anymore. . . . you are "living" it.

Consistency is the only bridge between where you are and where you want to be.

Don't let this be just another video you watch and forget.

Make these 103 sentences for your new best friends.

Use them until they feel as natural as breathing.

I promise you, if you do this, your fear of speaking will simply disappear.

You are much closer to fluency than you think.

Believe in yourself, keep practicing, and never stop.

I'm so proud of the progress you are making.

I'll be here to guide you every step of the way.

See you in the next lesson!